Lions Pancake Day Was Big Success

Pancake day at Mokena last Saturday was a huge success. The weather man contributed largely to it. Most every day of that week rain came down in sheets but when Saturday came the sun appeared and remained visible all day. Tables were set up on Mokena street, between Front and First streets, where customers were seated and enjoyed eating pancakes, sausage and bacon, washed down with coffee or milk.

Everyone was in good spirits even the men and Aunt Jemima who had stove heat as well as sun heat with which to contend.

That is the reason for the many sunburns appearing on faces and arms of the men the next day. But the men are grateful for the generous patronage and after all, the money paid there remained $240 to be added to the Lions treasury with which to carry on their work.

The Mokena Lions who sponsored the Pancake day are hoping they will be able to have a large tent for the affair next year, large enough to house the patrons.

Sudden Illness
Fatal to Father
Of Mokena Woman

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ambuehl and daughter Marilyn of Front st., Mokena were called to St. James, Ill., May 17 by the sudden death of Mrs. Ambuehl's father, Frank Spangler.

Mr. Spangler had given up active farming several years ago and lately had not been feeling well. When his wife called him for breakfast Monday morning, she found him dead.

Mr. Spangler would have been 77 in July. He and his wife had lived in the same farm home for over 40 years.

Funeral services were conducted in the Macedonia Christian church, near St. James Wednesday afternoon, with interment in the local cemetery.

Besides his widow and Mrs. Ambuehl, Mr. Spangler is survived by three other daughters and a son, 16 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Among the grandchildren attending the funeral were, Harold Ambuehl of Mokena, now in the navy, and Cecil Ambuehl, a student at Rose Polytechnic, Terre Haute, Ind.

WITHOUT VARNISH

David Lawrence tells a plain unvarnished truth in an article copyrighted by the New York Herald-Tribune when he says: "The modern concept of progressivism can lead to financial deterioration by increased spending but it is today applauded as popular and a good way for ambitious individuals to get elected to public office."

"It was Thomas Jefferson who first declared the doctrine of 'equal rights for all, special privilege for none,' but today he would be called a man without a heart and a reactionary who wants to 'turn the clock back.'"

"In solving money, however, is threatened when legislators in a democracy can spend taxpayers' money without restraint. There is today no sign of a permanent halt to the steadily diminishing value of the dollar in America in terms of purchasing power. Solvency cannot be assured without sound fiscal methods."

"The pages of history are strewn with the wreckage caused by those in government who tried to spend more money than the taxpayers could pay."

The question is: How did the Fool and his Money ever get together in the first place?

Earlier Deadlines
For May 31 Issue

Because of Wednesday, May 31 is Memorial day and a holiday in Illinois, the office of this paper will be closed then but we will publish on Thursday as usual. But because of the loss of a workday it will be necessary to advance our deadline for the Memorial day week, just as we will have to do the week containing the Fourth of July, which also falls on a Wednesday this year.

All deadlines will be moved up. News and ads that ordinarily are not due until on Monday must be in our hands by Friday, May 25. Classified ads must be in by Monday noon, May 28, instead of Tuesday.

We will appreciate your co-operation.

Cicadas, 17-year-old-locusts to
You, Are Due to Pop This Month

Illinois is going to play host this month—whether it wants to or not—to thousands of guests.

Known as "17-year locusts" these guests will come swarming out of the ground in the Illinois about the last half of May, according to John Miller, deputy director of the Chicago Natural History museum.

They're no locusts at all says Mr. Miller but cicadas belonging to a different insect family.

The cicada hibernates in the ground for 17 years before he comes out in the open to "live it up." He even dresses up for his noisy spree, changing from an ordinary brown bug costume to a beautiful transparent wings.

This month the cicada is starting in a unique display and film at the Natural History mu-

Zoning Board to Hear Mokena,
New Lenox Cases

A hearing by the Will county zoning board will be heard at 6:30 this evening in the Cooper and Hostert garage, Mokena. Glenn T. Hensel, Joliet realtor, is asking for a B-1 or business zone for an area of 370 feet by 250 feet in section 7, on the north side of Francis rd., west of 116th ave. He says he is contemplating a trading area there in the future.

Hensel purchased an 80 acre farm located west of Mokena from Peter Mancke which he subdivided. Four homes have been erected there to date.

At 7 p.m., tonight the zoning board will convene at the Rock Island depot in New Lenox to hear the petition of Ernest C. Hoefler for a B-1 zoning. He is asking that an actor in the Fox Manor subdivision, east of Cooper road and north of the Michigan Central Railroad tracks, be reclassified.

A second petition will be heard there also. It is that of Edward Batson for a B-1 or business classification for a material yard. He wants the property north of the Rock Island tracks in section 16 in New Lenox township rezoned for this purpose.

You, Are Due to Pop This Month

The film, called "Cicada—The Insect Mothuselah" was produced in color by the Moody Institute of Science, Los Angeles.

It will be shown daily at 12 noon and 3:30 p.m., seven days a week, at the museum, Roosevelt road and Lake Shore drive, thru-out May.

The cicadas will stay around until about the middle of June sucking sap from leaves but damage to trees will be mostly temporary, according to entomologists. As might be expected, it's the "children" who do the damage. The female cicada saws a gash in a twig to deposit her eggs and this sometimes kills small trees. Cover your smaller trees with cheesecloth to keep the cicadas away, the experts advise.

Poppy Day Dates In Area Vary

The annual poppy days are here again.

The poppy was originally the memorial flower of World War one veterans. Fashioned from paper or cloth by disabled veterans after the little red blossom that decked the battlefields of Europe, they were sold on the streets by service organizations and their auxiliaries.

The service organizations bought the flowers from the disabled veterans many of whom benefit twice because the money taken in thru the sale of the poppies is used by the organizations to carry on their service work among disabled and needy veterans and their dependents.

Originally, the poppies were sold on the Saturday immediately preceding Memorial day. The Illinois department of the American Legion has followed this custom by designating May 26 as poppy day in Illinois but veterans groups in this area have chosen different dates.

For instance, today, May 17, is poppy day in Tinley Park. At New Lenox this Saturday, May 19, has been designated as poppy day.

The event is scheduled for next Wednesday, May 24 at Mokena.

At Orland Park the poppy sale will be conducted May 25. The Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion and their auxiliaries lead in the sale of poppies but other veterans' organizations also participate.

New Lenox PTA
Asks Lights for Rail Crossing

A resolution urging installation of warning lights on the Michigan Central railroad crossing on South Cedar rd. was adopted by members of the New Lenox Parent Teachers Association at the meeting held in Haven school auditorium on Tuesday, May 8. The resolution, together with a petition from Manhattan residents whose children attend Lincoln-Way high school will be sent to John Francis, township supervisor. The crossing is now unprotected.

A. Hunter Chapman, principal at Lincoln-Way, reminded the PTA that a special election was to be held June 16 for the purpose of voting upon the following propositions. That the tax rate for educational purposes be established at 86 cents instead of 71 cents. It is estimated that the approximate amount extendable under the proposed rate will be $237,882.91 and the approximate amount extendable under the rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended is $196,391.70.

Also, that the minimum building fund rate be increased to 15 cents from the present 10 cents. It is estimated that the approximate amount extendable under the proposed rate will be $41,491.21 and the approximate amount extendable under the rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended is $27,660.80.

Mr. Chapman said that the enrollment growth has made it necessary to have more money and requested the PTA to support the increase sought in the educational tax rate.

The following officers for the coming year were installed by president John Oster: Lew Eggers, president; Mrs. Muriel Korista, vice president; Mrs. Joan Speiss, secretary; and Rowena Wolfinger, treasurer.

Here's A Revival
For You - Man Hurt
When Mules Bolt

Man injured when team runs away.

Such a headline, once common, was practically extinct in this area until yesterday when it was revived by the experience of Willard Nash, 30, an inmate at Statesville.

Nash is assigned to the honor farm and is due for discharge July 23. He came in, in August 1955, from J. Davis county on a charge of attempted burglary. Yesterday morning he was driving a team of mules, hitched to a farm wagon.

The mules, who wouldn't give a helicopter a second glance and probably ignore a flying saucer or man from Mars took a notion to appear frightened yesterday and made a sudden lunge, a maneuver that was entirely unexpected by Nash. He was sitting there on the wagon seat with the reins wrapped around his hands. The sudden lunge jerked him off the wagon, and at that movement the team took off.

Nash, unable to free his hands in time from the reins, was pulled into the path of the wagon and two wheels ran over his shoulder and head. Nash was taken to the Statesville hospital for treatment. His injuries are not believed to be serious. The mules stopped before they injured themselves. Mules are very particular about that.

WILL SHOW PICTURES

The public is invited to attend a meeting of the Sacred Heart league of St. Mary's church at St. Mary's hall, Mokena tonight at 9 o'clock when pictures depicting the work that is being done at Trinity hall will be shown. Trinity school is operated for exceptional children in what was formerly known as the Gougar school on Gougar rd. The pictures will be shown by Mrs. Stanley Stempion, of Joliet.

Mokena Youth On Honor List

Frederick Lehmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Lehmann of Mokena, is on the honor list at Oberlin college according to the list of students winning scholastic marks in that institution.

Such students were greeted last Thursday at an Honors Day assembly in Finney chapel at the college. The president of Oberlin, William E. Stevenson presided and introduced the speaker, Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

Oberlin, which takes its name from the Ohio city of which it is a part, was the first co-educational college. Today it has an enrollment of about 2,000—three-fourths of whom are in the college of arts and sciences—in which Frederick Lehmann is enrolled. The other divisions of Oberlin college are the conservatory of music and graduate school of theology.

Salvation Army
Week Opens May 20

The period of May 20-27, 1956, has been designated as national Salvation Army Week. During these days it is our hope that the general public will get to know The Salvation Army better.

Space does not permit at this time to enumerate the many services which the Salvation Army gives freely to the unfortunate, but during the last 10 years it has provided 1,000,000,000 free meals, or the equivalent of one meal for more than half of the country's population, according to National Commander Donald McMillan.

Only one lung cancer case in 20 is cured today. Ten out of 20 could be saved if diagnosis were made early enough, the American Cancer Society says.

THE AMERICAN WAYPicking Another One

The Mokena Grade school choir reached another musical peak Friday evening when they presented their second annual concert to a small but enthusiastic audience. From the opening to the closing numbers, the audience was surprised to hear the artistry with which these young children sang for here was not just "melody" singing by a bunch of kids but real two and three-part songs, so well done that it would put many adult choirs to shame.

The choir opened the program with "It's A Big, Wide Wonderful World", which was rather weak but they immediately came back with the very catchy tune of "Old King Cole" which got the audience's attention and held thru-out the remainder of the program.

The chorus faltered only once and that was half-way thru the program. While singing "Saw-wood Mountain".

One section completely forgot the words and skipped a whole page. After a moment or two of some bad notes, they finished the song together. It is interesting to note at this point, that even tho they did make several mistakes, they recognized they had, shook them off and continued, trying to improve on the song as they went along.

Many people found it hard to believe that these 32 students could maintain their attention on one thing for such a long period of time. The program, consisting of 19 numbers, was done completely by memory. This meant standing on the choir risers for 20 minutes at a time without moving off. But once they started singing, they never took their eyes off their director, Glenn Miers until that particular group of songs was completed and they were allowed to leave the stage for a drink.

The program was very well arranged into three parts. The first part consisted of several numbers concerning the British Isles and Europe. The second part of the program was devoted to the southland. During this part of the program, Carole Egness sang a solo in special arrangement of "Cool Water," and it was well done.

The last part of the program opened with the very difficult "Lullaby of Broadway". This was exceptionally well done for it has been found that many older choir have attempted this but gave it up as a bad job. Mr. Miers pointed out that all the music for the program is arranged for adult treble choirs and the fact that the grade school choir is able to sing it is really an accomplishment.

Mr. Miers also pointed out that most of the practicing was done by the students themselves and that the preparation for this concert was started last fall when the members were selected for the choir. At that time, sectional leaders were selected and it was up to them to see that each member of his or her section learned the music. Carole Egness acted as sectional leader of the first sopranos, Thomas Powers for the second sopranos, and Gayle Harling for the altos. Gayle was seen as Snow White in the spring production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs". Tommy gave a very good interpretation of "How Do You Speak to An Angel". Much credit is also due to the three accompanists: Kaye, Sue Ann Shoop and Gayle Swinford.

The choir meets Monday mornings at 8:15 and Thursday afternoons at 2:30. Two weeks prior to the concert, the members came every morning and also gave up their noon hour in preparation for the concert. They like to sing and that was the impression they left with the audience. Thru-out the entire program they appeared to be enjoying themselves and were very relaxed. In fact, one member relaxed to the point of singing most of the concert with her shoes off.

Altho the concert was the main event for the choir, they reported for rehearsal Monday at 8:15 and immediately began rehearsing for their final two appearances of the school year. They will sing for the Memorial Day services May 30, and will also present two numbers at the graduation exercises, June 1.

Doris Cummons Becomes Bride of Martin John Medema at Lovely Spring Wedding in Mokena Church

St. John Evangelical and Reformed church at Mokena was the scene of a lovely spring wedding Sunday, April 22, when Miss Doris Cummons became the bride of Martin John Medema. The pastor of the church, the Rev. William Riemann officiated at the double ring ceremony which took place at 4 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Cummons, 217 Third st., and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Medema reside at 114th and Front st., all of Mokena.

The church altar was decorated with white candelabras, white Easter lilies, gladioli and snapdragons. The center aisle pews were marked with white satin ribbons and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Lydia Ryan presided at the organ and played a group of nuptial songs as the guests were assembling. She also accompanied the soloist, Miss Monica Foster, classmate of the bride, when she sang, "I Love You Truly," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a white embroidered organly street length dress over white taffeta, with a full skirt and a strapless bodice with shoulder draped sleeves. Her white shoulder length veil was attached to a white pillbox hat. Her double strand of pearls and matching earrings was a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Butterfield roses, intertwined with ivy and dracena leaves.

Miss Joyce Cummons, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a white embroidered organly dress over light blue taffeta with a full street length skirt. The bodice had straps of blue taffeta. Wayfarers Club Has Mother's Day Dinner

When the Wayfarers club and the auxiliary members met last Saturday evening in the social rooms of the Mokena Methodist church, the men were hosts to honor their wives and mothers in honor of Mother's Day. A pink carnation was presented to each lady.

A bounteous banquet was prepared by the men with the 75 in attendance being served at one time. The tables were decorated with crepe paper and flowers and a plant at each lady's plate, as a personal gift to her. There were two large rose bushes and a trellis at the kitchen entrance was well covered with red roses. The men reigned supremely with those doing the serving having chef's cap, jacket and apron. They served gallantly and quickly.

Among the invited guests was a mother from Holland, Mrs. Wilhelmina Brands, who is here visiting her son Mac Bottema and family.

A program followed the meal and many prizes were awarded. The evening closed after the

BROWNIE TROOP 460
The members of Brownie troop 460 were hostesses at a party given in honor of their mothers Tuesday afternoon, May 8. Anne Marie Chodl was presiding officer. Following the presentation of colors and pledge of allegiance, Cynthia Daniels was introduced as mistress of ceremonies.

Awards were made to Kathleen Scholten and Katherine Hansen for the two highest cookie sales in the troop; and to Lynne Zyer, Sheryl Berg, and Judith Feiwell who ranked highest in game points for the year. A playlet starring Judy Feiwell and Cheryl Ziska completed the program.

The cookies served with refreshments had been baked by the Brownies themselves on the previous day.

Fourteen mothers accompanied by 17 younger brothers and sisters enjoyed the festivities. Also present was Mrs. Hal Kent representative of the Ruth Circle of the Methodist church which is the sponsoring group for the troop.

SPRING COUNCIL

The Spring Council meeting of the Girl Scouts of South Cook county was held May 10 at the Roosevelt school in Evanston. The Tinley Park neighborhood was represented by Mrs. Elmer Knudsen, chairman and Mrs. Charles McCutchen, delegate.

Mrs. Herbert S. Ray president of the council, told the importance of volunteer work. From the presentation of the colors to the closing of the meeting, each moment was interesting and meaningful, but as in all events, there were high points, foremost being the presenting of a Chevrolet station wagon to the Scouts of South Cook by the Nielsen Chevrolet company of Harvey. They also donated $100.00 to the Scouts.

The new officers, board members and neighborhood chairmen were installed and the 1957 budget was presented.

An interesting panel discussion represented four segments of community life: church, school, PTA and service clubs.

The need for more experience campfire, resulted in two adult cookouts. Both were held at Tinley Creek woods. The one, May 8 was for the benefit of all scouts who had never enjoyed the delight of a tin can, plus hamburger etc. Wednesday's instruction consisted of foil cookery, barbecuing chicken, reflector oven baking. Nature did not cooperate however, but many other lessons were learned, namely, how to retrieve floating food and the correct way to wear blankets. Mrs. Ava Funk and

Mrs. Florence gave much time in the planning of the cook outs.

CANCER COSTS $12 BILLION

Some 500,000 new cancer cases will be reported this year in the U. S., while a total of 700,000 will be under medical care for cancer. That means a loss of 3,500,000 man-years of work and will cost the economy $12,000,000,000 in loss of goods and services.

No brain is stronger than its weakest think.

Frosh-Soph Eagles Bounce Back After First Defeat of Season

The Carl Sandburg frosh-soph baseball team hit a snag when it encountered Rich and the Rockets handed an 8 to 1 wallop but the Eagles bounced back last week to larrup Reavis 10 to 2 on seven hits.

Beating Reavis gave the Sandburg crew eight wins for the season as against one defeat, and one tie, for a very impressive record.

In the Reavis tilt Morlock, Yurtis and Hosier drove in two runs each, Gerry Gorman scored three times for Sandburg on two hits.

Aird pitched a sweet game for the Eagles, allowing but one hit. Stanick was the losing pitcher.

Mokena Small Fry, Babe Ruth Loop Fans Will Meet Tomorrow

All persons interested in Small Fry and Babe Ruth league baseball are asked to meet at the Mokena public school tomorrow night, May 18, according to an announcement made yesterday by Al Sorensen, president.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock. Mokena will have teams in both leagues.

The Small Fry team will be in the Tri-County League with Orland Park, New Lenox, Tinley Park, Frankfort and Manhattan. These teams comprise the northern division of the league. The southern division is made up of Peotone, Grant Park, Matteson, Monee, Steger and Beecher.

Mokena Golfers Begin Series of Free Lessons

The free golf lesson at Mokena Memorial park scheduled for Tuesday night was rained out but was held last evening with a good attendance reported in view of the fact that the change in plan had to be done by word of mouth and posters.

Hereafter, according to a spokesman for the Mokena park board which has arranged for the golf lessons, if the weather is such that the classes cannot be conducted on Tuesday night they will be put over until Wednesday evening. If Wednesday is out too, then two lessons will be held the following Tuesday.

Tom Geary, of Mokena, a golf pro now turned banker, will be the instructor. He has been hired for the job by the Golf Equipment Co.

A lesson will be given each week, the series ending June 12. Geary will start his charges on the two iron. The last lesson will deal with putting.

The lessons will begin at 7 p.m. and anyone of 17 or over is eligible to take the course. There is no charge.

Later on, in July and August, Geary will give a series of free lessons to the youngsters, those under 17. This schedule will be announced later.

Eagles Golf Team Fails to Place in District Tourney

Carl Sandburg's golf team failed to finish among the leaders at the district tournament held last Friday on the Timber Trails course at LaGrange.

The tourney was taken by the LaGrange high school team which is now eligible to compete for the state title. Sandburg finished ninth position but was not bested by any other Southwest Suburban conference schools.

In conference matches, however, Sandburg lost to Reavis and to Rich. The Rich match wound up with Sandburg having a score of 285 while Rich finished with 276.

by JACK MAYPOLE

"Personally," Chippewa Bill Jackson told me, "I'd have to be shown what a birch tree looks like but I recall that some of my ancestors used birch bark to make canoes. Read about it in a book."

I met Bill when I was looking for an Indian who could give me a few comparisons between the much written about early-day birchbarks and modern aluminum alloy craft. I wasn't having much luck. Most of the Indians I could find worked in the Hotel Sherman. I did find two Dakota Sioux but they had spent their lives miles from water.

"I'm a city Indian," Bill told me. "Born on the west side and raised all over Chicago. Never did see a canoe until I visited in Wisconsin a few years ago."

"I can tell you this though," he went on. "The Indians up that way are no dummies. They don't go in for this 'make-it-yourself' deal any more. Too much work when you can buy a better deal than you can make."

"I went canoeing with a friend, Pete Fox, but we used a 16-foot Grumman aluminum job. Weighed about 50 pounds if I remember correctly. Flatter on the bottom than most Pete could get into the shallow spots we fished. Wider than other canoes I saw, and really sturdy."

"We saw lots of other canoes but mostly they were aluminum too. The white man really has taken over the red man's methods for getting about fast and easy."

"But I had a chance to see that the red man doesn't mind. Pete and I came around a bend of a river and here came a big canoe, a square-ender about 20 feet long."

"A big woman was cooking on a little pressure stove amidships. There were three kids up forward. And the stern was a little old fellow, a chief, I think. He was taking it easy, leaning back and smoking while a big outboard did the paddling. 'I think maybe if you could find that old chief he might tell you what you want to know about birchbark. But maybe not. His canoe was aluminum too.'"

Wishing to make the annual spring visit to the Fox river country and also to try out a new Ru spinning reel, I sent me for testing. I hooked up the Gator which carries the fishing boat, hitched to the family bus and took off.

I ran into something I wasn't looking for and it was all good. I mean the setup of Cashmore Brothers off Roberts road near Wauconda. They have a boat launching, trailer and car parking, water skiing, fishing and picnic spots open to the public at a nominal fee.

Such sites as this have long been needed along the Fox and the Cashmores are pioneering something I sincerely hope will find many imitators in Illinois. They are showing that exorbitant fees and restrictions are not necessary to operate and for the first time along the river, Mr. Average Man is getting a real break.

State sites just don't measure up to this beautiful 100-acre wooded tract the Cashmores have and the state could also take a lesson. If anyone is interested in how this setup operates I'd be glad to answer an inquiry.

The Ru sport reel, I am happy to report, came up to all its maker's claims. It features a stationary spindle for the line. The system giving even winding for the reel also is a new development and very important to a spinner man as it eliminates that old bugaboo, backlash.

J. D. Aurora, writes—What do you think of grass boats? Answer—Right now there are too many folks in this business who know fiberglass and don't know boats and vice versa. Those few who know both are proving these craft to be highly satisfactory. More on this later. —J.M. (Hear Jack Maypole over WJJD at 8:40 a.m. M-F)

Tinley Tigers to Play Season's Opener With Riverdale Sunday

The Tinley Park Sportsmen's club baseball team, which had to postpone its game last Sunday, is hopeful of kinder treatment by the weatherman this Sunday when it is scheduled to meet Riverdale on the Riverdale field on 137th st., a block east of the I. C. tracks. Game time is 2:30.

"Moose" Nasebandt, manager of the Tinley Tigers, is sticking with his mound choice for last Sunday—Bruce "Spike" Cleator. Moose believes his team will be a strong tie contender. The squad has lots of hustle and has been looking good in workouts.

but has not yet been tried in a game. The team was to have played at Oak Forest last Sunday but the heavy rains last week had left the field in poor condition.

A large group of Tinley fans are expected to accompany the team to Riverdale Sunday. They will leave from the Tinley Park grade school at 1 o'clock.

The Sportsmen's club expressed its appreciation to Al Brandau, Joseph McCarthy and Bill McDermott for the help given in putting the Ray Zimmerman diamond in playable condition.

The regular monthly meeting of the Maue PTA, south western area council, District 19, was held at the school Wednesday evening with Mrs. Roy Walker presiding in the absence of Mrs. Norman Strassenburg who was not able to be present because of the illness of her daughter, Barbara.

There was an installation of officers with Mrs. Cruise acting as proxy for Mrs. Strassenburg who will continue as president. A panel discussion of responsibility for each member of the family followed. After the meeting, under the instruction of Mrs. Maue, all learned how to make flowers from handkerchiefs.

Mothers of this year's graduating class were also present but met separately with the upper grade teachers, Mrs. Meinert, to discuss plans for graduation, which along with crops and rains, is a main topic for discussion these days.

Graduation exercises at Maue school are planned for June 4 and on the following day the graduated class accompanied by Maue's teachers, will have dinner followed by a movie in Joliet.

Wins Music Award
Word has been received during the past week from the News Bureau of Illinois Wesleyan that Larry Cullison, Lincoln-Way senior, has won a competitive freshman music award from Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington Ill. The award was made as a result of an audition conducted by faculty members from the University's School of Music.

In order to earn this award, a student must have a fine high school record and demonstrate outstanding talent in the field of music. Audition centers this year have been in St. Louis, New York, Chicago, and on the Wesleyan campus during spring festival week-end. More than 100 students competed for the music awards which are renewable each year if the student maintains the required university average.

1956 Yearbooks Arrive
The 1956 AEGIS, the Lincoln-Way yearbook, finally arrived and was distributed to the students on Wednesday, May 9. Much excitement was in the air as the yearbooks were here at last, actually a week ahead of schedule. The new book has the same cover design as last year's but is green and white instead of white and red, the color of the 1955 edition. It is approximately the same size but contains many more pictures than the previous book.

The theme "When Knighthood was in Flower" has been excellently developed by Paul Padzuika's art work on the division pages. The first illustration is a double page spread, a drawing of a mounted knight riding toward his castle. Others are "The Round Table" (board of education); "Kings, Knights, Squires and Pages" (the four classes); "The Fair" (activities); and "The Tournament" (athletics).

The faculty pages include some of the teachers' favorite sayings in addition to the usual information about colleges, degrees, etc. Examples are: Mr. Chapman's "Attention, please, for a few announcements," Mrs. Hussey's "Can you prove it?", and Mr. Kruzich's "Where's your pass?" Most of the sayings, typical of the teacher, were submitted by students in their classes who listen to them every day. Individual pictures of every student are included in the book.

Now that the new book is here, the staff already is beginning to plan for the 1957 edition. Allan Marston of Bradford, who will be a senior next year, will be serving as editor. The rest of the staff will be selected in the fall. Diane Batson was editor of the 1956 book.

American Legion Medal Award
The American Legion School Medal award winners will be decided by election of students from the senior class. The election will be held Monday, May 14, with the student council officers in charge. All seniors and teachers will select one boy and one girl for each of the five characteristics listed on the ballot. The award is based on courage, leadership, honor, service, and scholarship, which, if cultivated, result in better citizenship.

The boy and girl who receive the most votes from all five characteristics will each receive the American Legion school medal award. Runner-ups will receive certificates of honorable mention.

The American Legion School Medals awards will be awarded annually by the Bobzin-Swinford Post 1098 of Frankfort.

Senior Band Members
This is the second group of senior band members to be featured in this column. Last week Larry Cullison and Diane Batson were featured.

Jim Cooper, Jim Cooper, president of the band, plays the cornet. Last year he served on the first committee which wrote the band constitution and later became its first vice president. In contest work while at L-W, he has won five blue medals and one red medal. Last year he played in the cornet quartet which received a third rating at the district contest and a brass quintet which won first rating at both the district and state contests.

This year the brass quintet repeated the same feat while the cornet quartet earned a Division I rating at the district and a Division II at the state. Jim has been enrolled in a college preparatory course in high school and plans to enter the University of Illinois to study engineering.

Before entering L-W, he attended Joliet Township High School where he was a member of the band.

Besides his band activities, Jim is president of the Phi-Chem Association, President of the Student Council and is a member of the Math club and the National Honor Society.

Ted Hurst. Another of the six graduating seniors is Ted Hurst. Ted is now serving in the capacity of section leader of the cornets. He was a member of the committee which wrote the original constitution of the band. He was also elected as its first treasurer.

Six medals have been won by Ted in contest work at Lincoln-Way. For two years he has played first cornet with the brass quintet which for two years in a row has won Division I ratings in both the district and state contests. The cornet quartet in which he also played first cornet earned a third rating in the district contest last year. This year they improved greatly, receiving a Division I rating in district contest and a Division II in the state.

Ted has also been one of the organizers of a combo and plays trumpet with this group.

Before entering Lincoln-Way, Ted received some valuable music experience in J.T.'s band. He has pursued a college prep course and plans to work when he completes his education. He is now employed as a gas station attendant.

Music Contest
The Lincoln-Way band and chorus participated in the state music solo and ensemble contests at DeKalb on Friday, May 4.

Division I ratings received blue medals. Division II scores received red medals.

Wendell Anderson received a Division rating for his boy's high voice solo. Carol Larson entered in the girl's high voice, received a Division II rating. The mixed vocal ensemble consisting of John Fish, Wendell Anderson, Larry Cullison, Dave Eriksen, Willa Schroeder, Jane Oram, Carol Larson and Sue Eriksen, also received a Division II rating.

The girls double ensemble of Raydene Cook, Bonnie Slick, Shejia Bennett, Joyce Klinger, Yvonne Piepenbrink, Jane Oram, Janet Korsgaard and Sue Eriksen, scored a Division III rating. Barbara Sayers accompanied all vocal solos and ensembles.

The band solos and ensembles that received blue medals were: 1. Bill McCormick, snare drum solo; Paul Schuh, flute solo; Ronnie Steinberg, alto saxophone solo; a brass quintet of Ted Hurst (cornet), Jim Cooper (cornet), Larry Phifer (baritone), Virgil Hammond (bass), and Larry Cullison (French Horn); 2. A drum quintet, McCormick, Dennis Becker and LaVerne Ulrich (snare drums), Dave McGuire (bass) and Henry Jensen (cymbals); 3. A saxophone quartet of Ronnie Steinberg, Charles Otto (altos), Dick Batson (tenor), Jim Stauffenberg (baritone); and 4. A brass quartet of Lorraine Redman, Larry Francis (cornets), Les Van Orstrand (trombone) and Charles Hammond (baritone).

Those that received a Division II rating were: Diane Batson, oboe solo; a cornet quartet of Ted Hurst, Jim Cooper, Everett Long and Larry Francis; and Rudy Guzik, bassoon solo.

Division III ratings went to Charles Hammond, baritone solo and woodwind trio of Paul Schuh (flute), Diane Batson (oboe) and Bette Cross (clarinet). Band solos were accompanied by Rudy Guzik, Dave McGuire and Larry Cullison.

BERT FULTON SCHOOL
By Marlice Ging

The children of Mrs. Phillips' room are making May baskets. The class is planning on going on a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry some day during the month. They hope to see the submarine U-505, the Doll House, the Model Farm, the Coal Mine and other smaller displays while they are there. During the last week of school each of the children will pick an animal from one of the countries they have studied during the year. They will make a puppet of the animal they have picked and tell the story of the life of the animal as if the animal were telling it. The members of the Citizens club in the room are going to give a play called "The Flag Assembly" to the rest of the class.

The members of Mrs. Prokop's room are working in committees to decorate the room windows with cutouts of birds, flowers and trees for spring.

On Thursday, May 10 the class went to the Museum of Natural History. They enjoyed the displays of the prehistoric men and animals and the Indian exhibits.

PLAN ZOO TRIP

By Kay Swisher

Each year the PTA gives an award of $6 to the room having the most parents present at each meeting. This year Mrs. Lemke's first grade at Bert Fulton school won the award. They had the most parents present five out of the eight meetings. With the money they plan to take a trip this spring to the Brookfield Zoo. If it rains they will go to the Museum of Science and Industry. Mrs. Runion's room, 110, first grade is also going with Mrs. Lemke's room on their trip.

Scout Trail

Rainbow Council Camporee

Boy Scouts of the Rainbow Council are making preparations for the annual camporee to be held this week-end, May 18, 19 and 20 at the Kankakee river state park, northwest of Kankakee. Logging and Scoutcraft events will highlight the encampment which will be known as "Logger's Camporee."

The purpose of the Camporee is "To teach troop camping thru observation, inspections, contests, demonstrations, games and practices which will aid the troop in carrying out its own camping program on and off the council camping site." Out of the camporee should come many values. The improvement of camping, greater skills, more enjoyment, strengthening of the patrol system, development of junior leadership, pride in achievement, character values thru living in camp under Scout conditions and in fellowship with other Scouts and finally, preparation for the extended Scout camp this summer.

L-W Student Writes Story on Sauk Trail

(The following article written by a Lincoln-Way freshman from Frankfort appeared in the April issue of The Illinois Junior Historian).

By Terry Schroeder

THE SAUK TRAIL is different from other roads in this vicinity due to the way it winds. It is a remnant of the Great Sauk Trail which originally ran east across Illinois from Rock Island to Peru, followed the north bank of the Illinois River to Joliet, and then continued east to Valparaiso, Indiana. From there it angled northeast to LaPorte and on across southern Michigan, passing near Niles, Three Rivers, Jonesville, Clinton and Ypsilanti, to Detroit.

For centuries bands of Indians traveled it in single file on missions of peace and war until they had beaten a narrow pathway deep in the soil. The Indians, traveling overland, picked the shortest, safest route for easy trotting, often following paths worn by deer and buffalo. The buffalo were partial to low ridges but went around hills, lakes, swamps and places thick with thorny underbrush. That is why the Sauk Trail is so crooked. The early settlers traveled it on horseback. Eventually it became a road used by stagecoaches, buggies, farm wagons, and now by automobiles.

The Sac (or Sauk) and Fox Indians, like the Iroquois, hated the French and sided with the British. The British made an annual payment of goods to them at Fort Malden, Canada, near Detroit. The Indians traveled the Sauk Trail from Rock Island to Detroit to pick up their goods.

In 1781 an expedition of Spanish soldiers came up the Illinois River and east on the Sauk Trail, seized Fort St. Joseph (on the site of Niles, Michigan) and flew their flag over it for twenty-four hours. In 1803 a company of American soldiers marched over the Trail from Detroit to LaPorte on the way to Chicago, where they built Fort Dearborn. In 1838 the Potawatomi in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois traveled it to the Mississippi River and their new homes farther west.

Like the Cumberland, Santa Fe and Oregon trails, the Great Sauk trail made history. Four flags have been carried over it. They were the French, Spanish, English and American; the Indians had no flags.

Woman, 106, on Social Security List in Area

Mrs. Charlotte Bonner, who has reached the age of 106 on April 26, this year, is believed to be the oldest social security beneficiary in this area according to Cornelius R. Schafer, district manager of the social security office, 15339 Burlington Avenue, Harvey. She is a patient at the Oak Forest Infirmary.

All records of the Social Security Administration are confidential. However, in order to acquaint the public with the benefits payable to wives and widows, Mrs. Bonner gave the social security office permission to use information about her.

Mrs. Bonner married Alex Bonner, June 18, 1918. Beginning with September, 1943, she started drawing monthly social security payments as his wife. Mr. Bonner passed away on February 5, 1951, and Mrs. Bonner received an increase in payments as his widow. She is presently drawing $34.00 a month and will draw this amount as long as she lives, according to Mr. Schafer.

Wives are eligible to draw social security payments that may range anywhere from $15.00 to $54.30 a month. Widows may draw anywhere from a minimum of $30.00 to a maximum of $51.40 a month. The amount of the benefit is based on the average earnings of the husband. This will give you some idea as to the payments that can be made. To find out what amount you may be eligible to receive, you can contact your nearest social security office Mr. Schafer stated.

Urges Officials Enforce Law to Reduce Slaughter on Highways

Americans are speeding toward the highest traffic accident, injury and fatality experience in the nation's history, Thomas N. Boate, manager of the accident prevention department of the Association of Casualty and Surety companies, declared today. Greatly stepped-up traffic law enforcement measures, he warned, are imperative for the protection of motorists and pedestrians alike.

"Last year," Mr. Boate said, "the nation suffered 38,300 traffic deaths, 2,158,000 injuries and 9,000,000 accidents. During the first quarter of this year, we were 10 percent ahead of figures for the same period last year. If this rate continues, we will end 1956 with 42,130 deaths, 2,373,500 injuries and 10,000,000 accidents on our highways."

"Usually at this time of the year, we are making plans to attempt to control the rash of accidents that invariably occur over Memorial Day and Independence Day holidays. But if the present rate of increase continues, such efforts may be purely academic. The rate for any one day will be so high that these two holidays, which fall on Wednesday this year, may well be lost in the shuffle."

26,000 Crashes Daily
"We are being told that in terms of miles driven and exposure to accidents, we are killing fewer people than ever before. At the most, all that this proves is that people can drive a few more miles before they have an accident. It doesn't alter the fact that 26,000 accidents occur each day and that each year almost one out of every 4,000 Americans dies on the highway."

"Last year 2,000,000 pleasure trips ended in highway disaster, and to me it is no consolation to know that although I'm marked for death, I have the dubious privilege of driving a few more miles before I am brought to an unnecessary and terrible end of life's journey."

We know that 80 percent of all accidents result from driver errors. Last year, for instance, the leading causes of highway deaths were exceeding the speed limit, driving on the wrong side of the road, failing to yield the right-of-way, driving off the the Open House celebration for Betty Jane during the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Konkel entertained in their home Sunday at a dinner, honoring their son Randy who received his first communion Sunday morning at 3 o'clock mass in St. Mary's Catholic church at Mokena.

A dinner honoring the occasion was served at 2:30 in the Konkel home to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Behr, and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. George Karl and daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krenk and Marianne, all of Joliet, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Amyot of Milwaukee, Wis.

Janice Peterson returned this week to the Schumhl school where she is a second grader, following a week's illness in the home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Peterson. Their son Ricky was confined with the measles this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thode and son George were guests Monday of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Kalwitz in Waukegan at a dinner honoring Mothers Day, and the birthday of George Thode.

146 banked in the same period last year.

The deposit figures for the month of April also show a decline from 1955. Last month $130,952,364 was deposited. In April, 1955, the local internal revenue service office banked $169,913,529, $39-million more than in April, 1956. So the surge of returns received in early April didn't—at once, anyway,—make up for the smaller amount received earlier.

Productivity gains in our economy are not automatic—they can be checked off by the stifling of incentive, by drying up the sources of investment capital, by making risk too costly, by discouraging research, and by the deadening hand of inequitable taxation.

Business and Finance

BUSINESS AND FIN.
By Maurice P. Angland
Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) is the world's largest oil company, and its securities have long been top favorites as investment vehicles. It is a leader in petroleum chemistry research and has produced a myriad of chemical products not formerly thought of as likely products of an oil company.

The remarks of the president of this company with regard to industrial expansion of the country, are certainly worthy of note. M. J. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) said four powerful forces are at work which will push the economy to new highs in the years ahead.

He listed these factors as population growth, a rising standard of living, dramatic technological developments, and defense spending.

He told the 8th annual business conference at Rutgers university that all of these factors in such a rising company, take time, money and faith.

"We have no choice but to meet the challenge of our expanding economy boldly by investing heavily in plants and equipment, by developing our manpower, by devoting constantly more time and money to research, and by improving our manufacturing processes."

He also told the group that industry must meet the challenge of economic growth "prudent" so as to avoid inflation and soften the disruptive effects that inevitably accompany change.

Mr. Rathbone said that industry is capable of the job and that "its success will give the best possible proof to the world of the soundness of our capitalistic economy, and our concern for the individual human being, by whom and for whom American industry exists."

He pointed out that American industry is expected to spend a record-breaking $35 billion for expansion and modernization this year alone. He said that the oil industry's share of this total will be $5 billion.

Commenting on the "forces which make future expansion of our economy seemingly inevitable," Mr. Rathbone said a growing population is the strongest because it means increased demand for goods and services of every conceivable kind. "It means steadily rising pressure on business to serve and industry to produce."

Mr. Rathbone said, "it is not inconceivable that we should be close to doubling our present population of 155 million by the year 2000." This is less than fifty years away.

Time Now for Self-Employed Farmers to Pay Security Tax

There is an important date ahead for most self-employed farmers, Cornelius R. Schafer, District Manager of the Harvey Social Security Office, declared today.

He was referring to persons self-employed in any kind of agricultural enterprise, either alone or in a partnership or joint venture, who had net earnings of at least $400.00 in 1955. These farmers are required to report those earnings up to a total of $4,200.00 for the year and to pay the three per cent social security tax. 1955 was the first year that social security credit could be earned for farm self-employment.

The report must be made and the tax paid with the 1955 income tax return not later than April 16. Mr. Schafer pointed out that this is mandatory even if the net earnings were as much as $400.

In most cases the net earnings for social security purposes will be the same amount reported for income tax requirements. There is an optional method of reporting, however, which may be used by farmers grossing $1,800 or less, in the particular year. They may report either their true net of $400, or more, or one-half of the gross income, if that gross is $800, or more. If the net earnings, for example, are less than $800, the farmer can report either the actual net or $800, whichever he feels is more advantageous in his own circumstances.

Any farmer who desires more information on his social security responsibilities should call at the social security district offices at Harvey or Joliet.

ist China now located upon Formosa is opposed to Communism. The mainland of China is under Communist rule. There is no country in the world more antagonistic to the United States today than Communist China.

Korea—$1.3 billion—South Korea is opposed to Communism. North Korea is under Communist control.

Japan—$2.5 billion—Japan is opposed to Communism and is in full accord with the United States largely because of General MacArthur's wise administration and influence.

Israel—$400 million—Israel is opposed to Communism, but is in hot water with her Arab neighbors which prevents her full cooperation with the Free Nations.

Indonesia—$250 million—Indonesia is neutral as between Russia and the Free World. In recent elections 6 million Communist votes were cast in Indonesia, about 20 per cent of the total.

Have our give-away billions been well spent?

Incredible But True
The official Communist magazine, "Political Affairs", for January 1956 carries a statement by Max Weiss, a prominent

Communist writer, which states in part:

"The fight for peace requires that we single out for major attention and activity the following:

1. The fight for disarmament.
 2. The fight for normal trade relations between the United States and the 'Socialist' world.
 3. The fight for large-scale economic aid (from the U. S.) without strings.
 4. The fight to get U. S. trade unions to send a labor delegation to the Soviet Union."
- Coming from Max Weiss the above quotes are significant. Can there be any doubt now that the American Communist "large-scale economic aid" their objective being to bleed Party is waging a fight for America white?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How spiritualization of thought brings man enlarged ability and opportunity will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" at Christian Science services Sunday, May 13.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (265:5-15): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, - they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, - in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

"This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity, and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace."

E-Type Savings Bonds Observe 15th Birthday

A product that has become an indispensable part of the American way of life is observing its 15th anniversary this month. The Series E Savings Bond, described by some as the greatest of all thrift incentives, has made a permanent place in the nation's family life.

From the beginning, the E bond was a popular instrument of individual savings. Most sales in the earlier years were influenced largely by patriotism, it was said, but after the war years, the E bond did not pass from the picture, as most people thought it would. Today, 40 million own more than $40 billion worth of E and H Savings Bonds—about $38 billion of which are E bonds.

Many of the E bonds purchased thru the war years are now sending children thru college—or making down payments on dream homes—or providing additional income for those in retirement.

The records show that thousands and thousands of people who never saved a penny in their lives, today own Savings Bonds which were bought for them by their employers, who deducted the cost from wages or salaries, on a voluntary basis. Of course, the employee agrees to the arrangement and specifies the amount he wants withheld for bonds. But from there on, it's completely automatic. He soon learns to live on his "take home pay" and the E bonds continue to roll in.

In small businesses where management is not equipped to handle the bond buying plan, the employee has an alternative. The bank will do his bond buying for him and deduct the cost from his checking account.

Washington Notes

We have given away since World War II a total of $56.65 billion to win friends and to woo peoples away from Soviet Russia and Communism. Have we been successful? Have our give-away billions been well spent?

The following is a list of the amount of aid given the various nations and the present status of these nations in so far as Communist learnings are concerned—data compiled by the Legislative Reference Bureau of the Library of Congress:

Great Britain—$37.5 billion—Opposed to Communism. Soft toward Communists. Leaning toward Socialism.

France—$8 billion—Twenty-six per cent of the votes cast in the last election were cast by Communists. Twenty-three upsets of her national government in the last 10 years.

Italy—$3 billion—In the last election 6 million Communist votes were cast, almost 1/4 of total. This a large increase in the Communist vote in Italy during the past 10 years.

Czechoslovakia—$200 million—Czechoslovakia is an out and out Communist state.

Yugoslavia—$766 million—Yugoslavia is a Communist state founded by lifelong Communists with the assistance and encouragement of the Soviet Union. However, since Tito broke with Moscow in 1948, Yugoslavia has cooperated with the free world in some fields, as evidenced by her willingness to enter into a treaty with Greece and Turkey which provides for their common defense and her discussions on the subject of defense with the United States.

India—$1 billion—India is supposed to be neutral as between Russia and the Free World, but Nehru leans toward Communist China and Soviet Russia and defends their actions.

China—$2.5 billion—National-
